

SANTO'S ACCOMPLICE

Stabs Himself to Death Rather Than Surrender to the Police.

SECOND CHAPTER OF THE TRAGEDY

Which Has Shocked the World—The French Authorities Have Conclusive Evidence that the Assassination of President Carnot Was the Result of an Anarchist Conspiracy to Avenge the Deaths of the Men Recently Guillotined.

Paris, June 28.—A dispatch from Montpellier, capital of the department of Hérault, announces an anarchist tragedy growing out of the efforts of the police to discover the accomplices of Cesare Santo, the assassin of President Carnot. Cetto and Montpellier, both in the same department, have been mentioned as places where the murderer stopped previous to making his way to Lyons with the intention of taking the life of the chief magistrate of France. Consequently both these towns have been scoured by detectives since Monday morning. Santo has from the first claimed that he acted entirely on his own initiative and that he had no accomplices. The police soon formed a different opinion and believed that he followed out a carefully laid plan, receiving instructions and advice at the different towns he visited. The detectives who have been at work at Montpellier decided to surround and search the house of a man named Granier, supposed to be an anarchist, and a possible accomplice of Santo. Granier, it appears, during last Sunday afternoon previous to the attack upon the president, was heard to remark: "By this time Carnot must have received his quietus."

As the president was not stabbed until late the same evening it was naturally concluded when the news of the outrage became public and when it was shown that Santo visited Montpellier that Granier must have known that an attempt was to be made upon the life of the president.

When Granier's house was surrounded the detectives burst in the door and summoned the anarchist to surrender. Granier, who was seated at a table eating his supper, sprang to his feet and, for a moment, stood motionless with surprise. Then with surprising swiftness and before the detectives could secure him, he picked up a long and sharp knife and plunged it into his abdomen and with a few swift turns of the wrist disemboweled himself and fell to the floor, where he expired almost immediately.

The police then commenced a thorough search of Granier's lodgings and, according to report, a quantity of anarchistic literature was discovered, together with documents which connect Santo with Granier and others in the conspiracy which resulted in the murder of President Carnot. In any case the police authorities admit that they have established beyond a doubt that Santo, Granier and the man named Laborier, who was arrested on Monday, and others not yet in custody, plotted the death of President Carnot in order to avenge the executions of Ravachol, Vaillant and Henry, all of whom before dying announced that their deaths would be avenged. This of course was looked upon as mere anarchist blustering at the time the threats were uttered. The police expect to make important arrests shortly.

Santo will be tried, as already announced, on July 23, at Lyons, but the charge against him will be parricide, instead of murder. Article XIII of the penal code decrees that an attempt against the head of the state is to be so described and punished. When Santo shall have been condemned to death and the hour of his execution has arrived he will be conducted to the place of his execution in his shirt, bare footed and with his head covered by a black veil. The condemned man will stand on the scaffold while an officer of the law addresses the people and refers to the enormity of the crime committed. Santo will then be decapitated by the guillotine.

A FAVORABLE RECEPTION

Of the Election of Casimir-Perier by the French Newspapers.

Paris, June 28.—The moderate Republican and conservative newspapers accord President Casimir-Perier a favorable reception and say that they are convinced that the majority of the French nation and the real working people will do likewise. They extol his firmness and integrity and consider his election a reply to the anarchist challenge.

The Gaulois urges that the "joyful event" should be celebrated by the proclamation of political amnesty and the repeal of the exile laws.

La Justice also demands amnesty for political offenders. The radical organs regard the election of M. Casimir-Perier as a victory of the conservatives over the advanced sections. The Rappel says that after the horrible crime the majority was bound to choose a president of resistance.

La Lanterne expresses the opinion that M. Casimir-Perier's name is a challenge thrown to the democracy.

La Petite République remarks that M. Casimir-Perier regards the presidency as a weapon and not as a function, adding that he represents the clerical aristocracy and the financial plutocracy.

Continuing La Petite République states that the new president "is the chosen of the right, the prisoner of the church and the ambassador of reaction. The Republicans must close their ranks in the face of this new sixteenth of May."

Caused by Jealousy.
Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 28.—Shortly before six o'clock to-night Charles Washington, a laborer who has been living with Cora Glover, was probably fatally stabbed by her. She had become jealous of him on account of the attentions he had been paying to other women, and while asleep she plunged a knife into the lower part of his abdomen and mutilated his person in a terrible way. The woman was arrested after much difficulty and is in jail. Washington is in a dying condition.

That Dread Feeling
Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for such a condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's PILLS are purely vegetable, carefully prepared from the best ingredients. 25c.

"THE WITCH OF ENDOR."

A Great Amusement Event at Martin's Ferry by Home Talent.

The burning of red fire in different parts of Martin's Ferry last night announced the opening performance of the "Witch of Endor." Foot prints are seen all over town leading toward the opera house.

The entertainment, which is for the benefit of the fire department, is by far the largest and best ever given in Martin's Ferry by home talent and the display of scenery is the finest ever witnessed in this neighborhood.

There was a fair sized audience present at the opening last night and everything passed off like clock work, notwithstanding that it was the first night and many were so well pleased that they will go again to-night or to-morrow night.

The scenery begins with the creation of the world, showing the globe floating in space and all the principal events up to the ascension of Christ. The scenery alone is an excellent exhibition in itself. In it are 20,000 yards of screen shifting scenery, 2,000,000 feet of hating, 200 gross of screws, 500 pounds of glue, ten barrels of whitening, one ton of paint, 200,000 feet of rope stretched to hang this with, in all 152 pieces of scenery, ranging in size from 18x24 feet to 4x68 feet. Seven men worked three months at painting and mounting the scenery, and it will require two 63-foot cars to transport this. In addition to the characters and the scenery it takes thirty men to handle the scenes, and although they are not seen by the audience their work shows the rapidity with which the changes are made. Each scene is beautiful and correct, and illustrates to a good advantage a great many passages in the biblical history whose description is rather complicated. The work stamps H. C. Temple not only as a thorough artist but as a master of his subject.

All of the music for this great musical and scenic production was specially written by Prof. Albion Lo Roy, and it is very pretty. About one hundred and fifty persons take part who have been practicing for three or four weeks and all do well. One hundred ladies and children take part in the minut marches and drills, twenty-four men in one drill and fifty persons in the chorus.

In the scene of Solomon's Palace is seen magnificent revels of the most splendid parts of the Bible.

Twenty-four young ladies dressed in Grecian costumes made of delicate pink satin with white tulle scarves appear in the scene, and in this is seen the graceful minut characteristics of the east. They appear for the first time in the first scene, and in this same scene is a tumbourine dance by twenty-four young ladies in pale buff costumes with tumbourines. This movement is purely in keeping with the time and place it depicts.

The stately march of twenty-four young ladies in long white robes with pale green mantles, is exceedingly pretty. Each carries a golden wand. The movement is very difficult and intricate and is characteristic of the pastimes of the great king.

The fourth in this scene is a flower drill by twenty-four little girls whose graceful movements are in general keeping with the harmony and beauty of the scene. They wear white and carry flowers.

A chorus of fifty welcomes the king and the entry of his body guards finishes the scene.

The remainder of the entertainment consists of the various scenes before mentioned and a grand drill by Roman soldiers, numbering twenty-four and just preceding the picture representing the delivery of Christ to the Jews by Pilate. The costumes worn by these soldiers are historically correct in every detail. They consist of helmets, Roman togas and sandals and the soldiers are armed with spears, shields and the inevitable sword. The men who take part in this drill range in height from five feet ten inches to six feet four inches, and the movements are very imposing.

Miss Mary Davidson takes the part of the Witch of Endor and W. H. Cross King Saul, the two principal characters. The dialogue of the King is short, but ably portrayed. The Witch of Endor is an exception to amateur performers. She occupies the stage during the entire performance, except during the scene of Solomon's Palace. She explains the meaning of each setting of scenery to the King, who has fallen entirely beneath her spell. This makes the settings comprehensive to the audience. The part is a heavy one, and portrayed in a highly satisfactory manner. The spectators fail to realize that they know Miss Davidson, and are led to believe that they are in the actual presence of this historical witch. The story of the Witch of Endor is founded upon the memorable visit of Saul to this personage, and is supposed to have transpired previous to the visit mentioned in I Samuel xxviii 7-25.

The entertainment is entirely different from any in the history of the Ohio Valley, and the house should be packed to-night and to-morrow night. Many Wheeling people will attend.

The Coming Barn Dance.

The gentleman who have been arranging a picnic and barn dance for Saturday have secured a crowd that will fill two wagons. The wagons will leave Fourteenth and Market streets at 1 o'clock, and those who miss them will go up on the 1:25 or 3:55 Pan-handle train to Windsor Station. The afternoon will be spent in the orchard and barn, and in the evening all will go to the barn, where the fun will wax fast and furious until about 9 o'clock, when those from this city will return home. The up-river committee reports that nearly all the younger people of that vicinity will be there, and are very impatient for the day to arrive. The boys will all vote the Republican ticket if the weather bureau is not friendly on that day, as this will undoubtedly be the most largely attended dance of the many held at Hedge's. Everybody is sure to have a great big day's fun. Mayor's band will make concert and dance music.
